Wenonah Staff Made Definite

Publication To Be Edited
By Efficient Staff
Members

So that plans for the 1934 Wenonah may be made and work begun, the members of the staff have been appointed and approved. Helen Hammond is managing editor of the publication. Marie Burmeister and Frances Peake are editor-in-chief and associate editor.

Florence Schroth will edit the art work with Helen Souhrada, Dorothy Burrow, Maxine Dickerson, and Anna Jane Buck as assistants. The literary editor is Hildegarde Bachman; the assistants are Sophia Blatnik, Suzette Sucker, and Virginia Johnson.

The men's sports editor is Joe Gislason, with Francis O'Neill and Carl Kreuzer assisting him. Luella Carpenter and Grace Enger will edit the women's sports section.

Hilda Mahlke Feature Editor

Hilda Mahlke is responsible for the feature work with Eugene Thrune, Elsie Finkelnburg, and Frank Blatnik as assistants. Alvin Berg and Audrey Protz will select snap shots. Catherine Erickson will manage the photography; Inez Uglum and Mabel Weygant will assist her.

The characterization editor is Constance Christopher; Kathryn Jones is her assistant. Stanley Arbingast is the business manager and his assistants are William Owens, Charles Weisman, and Robert Wise.

New Note To Be Introduced

Neither the theme nor the dedication has been decided upon. The plan is to vary the makeup of the annual and add a more modern note.

Representatives of various engraving companies have been interviewing the editors and the advisers concerning the plans for the Wenonah.

The business managers launched the subscription campaign Monday, November 13, in chapel. The results were quite satisfactory, but many more subscriptions are needed.

Players Work On Comedy

"Mr. Pim Passes By," a comedy written by A. A. Milne, has been chosen by the Wenonah Players to be presented in the college auditorium Friday evening, December 8, under the direction of Dr. Jean Brady Jones.

After the first presentation of the play at the Gaiety Theater in Manchester, England, A. A. Milne was proclaimed a close second to George Bernard Shaw in the dramatic field. The play scored a hit and gained much momentum.

The Winona Theater group presented "Mr. Pim Passes By" in 1921. The play was chosen again this year by the Wenonah players because it is a modern humorous comedy with good characterizations and fine dramatic possibilities. The committee members in charge of selecting the play were Stanley Weinberger, Ruth Beseler, Daphne Buck, Ray Brown, and Hiram Griffith.

Choir from Green Pastures To Sing

Composed of genuine down-South Negroes and directed by the grandson of a Georgia slave, Hall Johnson's negro choir will reproduce the charm and simple abandon of the negro folk music on either November 27 or 28 in the college auditorium. This group was the original choir in "Green Pastures."

The program of the year is indefinite but will probably include Eunice Norton, pianist, the renowned pupil of Artur Schnabel, who has played with every symphony in the United States, the Hart House String Quartette, one of the leading ensembles of the world, and Wilbur Evans, baritone.

The Columbia Concert Corporation realizes that this is a difficult year and have made concessions so that the coming concert season will feature just as good if not better artists than last year even though the subscriptions are fewer than a year ago.

Faculty Members Attend Conference

Pres. Maxwell and Mr. Owens attended the conference of the Minnesota colleges, which was held in the Men's Union at the University of Minnesota, Friday, November 10.

The conference opened with a luncheon and was attended by fifty representatives of the state colleges and university. Pres. Coffman spoke on the two federal grants to Minnesota. One of $120,000, is to be used for the support of needy students in college. The second grant of $100,000 will probably be used to enable unemployed teachers to teach unemployed students.

Dean Coffman also expressed an interest in an exhibit to be prepared and sent over the state making forceful the need for maintaining education at a high level. This resulted in action providing a committee.

Club Prepares Stunt for Party

Do decorations make a party? Decide for yourself next Saturday evening, November 18, at the all-college party sponsored by the Primary Club. Because of the social committees efforts to save expenses, no decorations are being used.

The stunt put on by a group of Primary club members will be entertaining even if there is no background of crepe paper. Advisers of the club who are assisting in making preparations are the Misses Gage, Foster, and Brouillette. The St. Mary's Orchestra will furnish music for dancing. At the close of the evening refreshments will be served.

Mary Grant Gives Gift to Players

Miss Mary Grant, former librarian at Winona State Teachers College, has recently given to the Wenonah Players some valuable properties for use in their dramatic productions. Miss Grant has a keen interest in all college and library activities and realizes how valuable is a large collection of drapes, curtains, and other items for stage settings or costumes to a play-producing group. The Players gratefully acknowledge her gift.

International Relations Club Sponsors Noted Cambridge University Debaters

Student "Freedom" Improves School

"In spite of adverse conditions, school spirit towards all college activities has improved one hundred per cent in the last nine years," declared Mr. Jederman in a recent interview upon this subject.

He explained that what we are very apt to mistake for school spirit, judging from the standpoint of enthusiasm and interest shown by the student, is merely loyalty on his part. In reality there are many other things of far more vital importance and interest to which he would rather apply his time.

"Most students, although it is not externally evident, resent being interfered with, and would rather have more time to devote to school jobs and the development of a self-reliance and a vital interest in chosen activities," accorded Mr. Jederman.

He stated that not only in school and colleges but in churches, organizations, and practically all social institutions a determination to reform is outwardly manifest, and that the idea of the individual following his own bent has been entirely omitted. This retards the building up of a greater self-sufficiency.

In conclusion, Mr. Jederman said, "We see outside of school as well as inside, people who are tired of this eternal rush and bustle, and of getting out of things practically nothing in proportion to what is put into them. The spirit of our student body as a whole would be much happier if each were left to himself with ample leisure time. Give the individual a chance and let him be benefitted by doing for himself what he is forced to now do for the sake of others."

Students Speak In City Schools

Speakers were selected from the reading and speech classes by Dr. Jones as representatives of the college for Armistice Day. The speakers chosen spoke at the various public schools in Winona. The speeches were judged mostly on the appropriateness of the material for children in the grades.

The speakers and the schools at which they spoke are Evelyn Ogrosky, St. Casimir; Florence Madsen, Washington; Amelia Anderson, St. Johns; Alice Max, St. Joseph; Elizabeth Mead, St. Stanislaus; Pearl Ascott, Jefferson; Mildred Herrick, Lincoln; Ava Schultz, Sugar Loaf; and Eleanor Ames, Central.

Alumni Urged To Support Society

Fifty-five years ago on July 25, 1875, the Alumni Society was founded.

Its purpose was "to promote a more intimate relationship between the Winona State Teachers College and its alumni and to advance their mutual interests as well as those of popular education in the state of Minnesota." Charles A. Morey '72, then a teacher in the school, was the first president.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the reopening of the institution after the Civil War was celebrated in August, 1889. In 1910 the Alumni Society helped to celebrate the fifteenth anniversary of the

Dr. J. Jones Writes for Nov. Speech Journal

In the November issue of the Quarterly Journal of Speech there appears an eleven page article by Dr. Jean Brady Jones of Winona State Teachers College, entitled "The New Deal Demanded by Modern Drama." The article presents a study of some thirty-three modern plays dealing with governmental problems. The plays chosen for the study represent the work of the leading dramatists of nine different nations.

League of Nations To Be Debated; Winona Takes Negative

"Resolved, That the League of Nations is the only secure guarantee of World Peace" is the question to be debated by a squad from Cambridge, England, and two members of the International Relations Club of W.S.T.C. in the auditorium next Friday evening at 8 P. M.

Mr. F. W. Sheehan will preside at this non-decision debate of which the two young British men will uphold the affirmative side and the representatives of W.S.T.C. will uphold the negative side.

For the first time a foreign debate team on their own first foreign tour, will clash in words with a local debate squad here.

Sharp and Barkway Compose Team

The Cambridge team is composed of two members chosen as representatives of the University Union Society. They are Alastair Sharp and Michall Barkway. Mr. Sharp is 22 years of age and a student at Clare College, Cambridge. He is a student of law, but has been actively interested in politics, music, and athletics. He is a member of the Hawks Club, an exclusive club of distinguished athletes. Mr. Barkway, also 22 years of age, is a student at Queens' College, Cambridge. In February 1933, as vice-president of the University Union, he took part in a radio debate with Yale on the subject of war debts. He is president of the Union Society and chairman of the British Universities' League of Nations Society.

Dr. Minne Coaches T. C. Team

Under the direction of Dr. Minne these four students have been doing research work on the question on debate: Paul Berkman, Chisholm; Cecil Gronvall, Red Wing; Arthur Tait, Mankato; and Henry Southworth, Glencoe.

This debate has been arranged through the National Student Federation of New York.

The W.S.T.C. is one of the three schools of the state to be favored by a visit of this debate squad. They will also debate at St. Thomas and St. Cloud.

Seven Finish College Work

With the end of the winter quarter, seven students will be graduated from this college. Many of them will reenter, however, for the winter quarter.

They are: Harold Rogge, Winona, degree; Videt Williams, Winona, degree; Lauren Amdahl, Mabel, upper grades; Evelyn Decker, Zumbro Falls, primary; Lauretta Inglebrit, Spring Valley, intermediate; Marion McIntire, Red Wing, upper grades; and Bernice Nelson, Willmar, intermediate.

Although no formal graduation is to be given these students, recognition will be given to them on November 29, during the regular chapel hour.

CONTACT

By JAMES LARKEN PEARSON

*My friend is living in a distant land,
But any moment I may touch his hand,
And feel his pulsing heart,
My enemy is dwelling at my door,
But I may never know him any more,
For we are worlds apart.*

One of the foremost and probably most important events on the college programs this year will take place next Friday. We are fortunate in being able to hear this team of intelligent, highly alert young Englishmen present their ideas on the League of Nations.

As a general rule I find students of colleges and universities here in the west apathetic and unreasonably cold and unenthusiastic about International affairs. Why? I wonder.

Probably it is because we live so far inland and we feel so far away from Europe and all her troubles, or maybe, it is because we have enough troubles of our own to worry about.

But in this age when a shot fired in China is heard around the world we can't afford to be disinterested in international affairs. The world and its peoples is all around us, hemming us in, nudging our elbows, and soliciting our trade. The world is much smaller and more good contacts should be made.

"Contact, contact" says the mechanic to the airplane pilot as he swings the propeller. So I say to all students of W.S.T.C. and every college of the U. S. "contact, contact" with all our fellow students all over the world.

MUSIC

"Music is a kind of unfathomable speech which leads us to the edge of the infinite and lets us for a moment gaze into that." — EXCHANGE.

Music is that indefinable substance that links and draws and binds us altogether. It is that rare and universal speech that can be understood by every one of every tongue, of every race, of every creed.

A truly educated individual is one who has a keen appreciation of good music combined with other cultural attainments. For a small college we have a number of fine musical organizations: the Apollo and Mendelssohn, an A Capella choir, orchestra and band. Now through the efforts of Mr. French and his aides we have the rare opportunity of hearing well-known artists, each high in talent in their special fields, through medium of this concert course.

Let us not scoff at "classical" music, but listen, discern, and discriminate. Appreciation can be gained without knowledge of any of the fundamentals of music. Even though we can not have Rachmaninoff, Lily Pons or Lawrence Tibbett, we still will have a program of exceptional skill and talent.

CLUB NEWS

League of Women Voters

Mrs. Marie B. Anderson, president; Jerlene Milner, vice-president; Dorothy Brant, Christine Breyer, and Edythe Bowen went to Minneapolis by automobile Friday, October 13, to attend the college division of the League of Women Voters convention held this year at Macalester College.

John Dewey Club

The John Dewey Club was entertained at its second study meeting of the fall quarter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Owens on the evening of November 1.

After a brief business meeting, Marie Burmeister, club president, introduced Mr. Owens as the speaker of the evening. He gave a brief but thorough presentation of the topic "Tests and Measurements," and concluded his talk with an intelligence test given to the group. A round table discussion on the subject followed.

Mrs. Owens, assisted by Marjorie Selle, served a delightful lunch at the conclusion of the meeting.

Country Life Club

"Who's afraid of the Big Black Witch???" Ask Barbara Mills who is president of the Country Life Club and who most effectively managed the Halloween party in the club room, October 29. Shrieks and screams accompanied every game. Fortune-telling solved many of the wearisome problems that prior to this meeting had seemed staggering. Miss Bartsch and Miss Christensen were among the enlightened number.

Kindergarten Club

The Kindergarten Club held its October meeting with Margaret Southworth presiding. The meeting was preceded by a pep talk by Isabel Downing in connection with the sale of Christmas cards. Everyone is cooperating and trying to sell as many cards as possible.

Margaret Southworth presented the values of the Childhood Education Journal and also spoke of Childhood Week, November 6-12. Mention was made of the S.E.M.-E.A. convention which was held October 19, 20, 21.

Isabel Downing then sang Schubert's Serenade. The meeting closed with the serving of light refreshments by the sophomores.

EACH IN HIS OWN TONGUE

A fire-mist and a planet,
A crystal and a cell,
A jellyfish and a saurian,
And caves where the cavemen dwell;
Then a sense of law and beauty,
And a face turned from the clod —
Some call it Evolution,
And others call it God.

A haze on the far horizon,
The infinite, tender sky;
The ripe, rich tint of the cornfields,
And the wild geese sailing high —
And all over upland and lowland,
The charm of the goldenrod —
Some of us call it Autumn,
And others call it God.

Like tides on a crescent seabeach,
When the moon is new and thin,
Into hearts high yearnings
Come welling and surging in —
Come from the mystic ocean,
Whose rim no foot has trod,
Some of us call it Longing
And others call it God.

A picket frozen on duty,
A mother starved for her brood —
Socrates drinking the hemlock,
And Jesus on the rood;
And millions who, humble and nameless,
The straight, hard pathway trod —
Some call it Consecration,
And others call it God.

Winona Ousts Mankato 12-9

Trick Play Gives Purple Touchdown in Final Quarter

By pulling a trick play while Mankato was sleeping, the Winona Teachers College football team defeated Mankato T. C. 12 to 9, Saturday, October 28, to bring their Homecoming celebration to a successful ending.

It happened in the final quarter with Winona having the ball on Mankato's 25 yard line, second down and five yards to go. On the next play Vince Viezbicke plunged into the right side of the Kato line where he was stopped dead. Vince laid on the ground as if hurt until a Mankato player helped him up.

He limped back toward his position and slumped to the ground while his team mates pretended not to see him. On the other hand Mankato, thinking Vince was hurt, did not keep their eyes off of him.

Then Herman quickly took the center position and passed the ball to Winter, who using no interference raced around left end for a touchdown.

Winona received their first touchdown on a pass from Johnson to Winters. Johnson faded back to his own 49 yard line and tossed a pass to Winter who jumped into the air to catch it on Mankato twenty.

Here he juggled the ball and then managed to beat Qvale to the Mankato goal.

The Katoans scored their first touchdown in the first five minutes of play on a pass, Qvale to Shuch, from the Winona 25 yard line. Qvale kicked goal for the extra point.

Mankato added two more points in the second when Winter went back to his own ten yard line to punt. He missed the ball and it rolled over his own goal where he fell on it for a safety, scoring two points for Mankato.

The Purple made eleven first downs to four for Mankato. They tried 11 passes and completed four for a total of 63 yards. Five of these passes were incomplete and two were intercepted. If comparative statistics mean anything, Winona deserved to win the game.

Johnson played a good game substituting for Rogge and Morse, and Thurley looked better on ends.

Chase played good ball in the line as did Kozlowski, O'Neil, Jaspers, and Gebhard.

Purple Eleven Defeat Jaysee

40-Yard Pass Hurlled From Rogge to Morse Scores Touchdown

A pass, Harold Rogge to Bud Morse, gave the Winona Teachers a 6 to 0 victory and took from Rochester J. C. an undefeated season at their annual Armistice day battle Saturday Nov. 11.

The ball was on the Jaysee 40-yard line when Rogge dropped back and threw a forty yard pass to Morse who took it on the goal line for the touchdown. Winter was stopped dead on the try for the extra point.

Twice in the final quarter the Purple managed to get to Rochester's ten yard line, but each time Rochester managed to stop the Purple scoring attack.

The Jaysees made one scoring threat when Hossfield broke thru to block a punt on Winona's 29 yard line. Stoffer went through the line to Winona's 16 and Billings added three more yards. The Yellow Jackets were then penalized 15 yards for holding and Chase intercepted a pass to stop the Rochester scoring attack.

Winona made 16 first downs to four for the Jaysees. Winona had four chances to score to one for Rochester. But notwithstanding the fact that the Purple overpowered Rochester they could not score on runs.

Rogge, who had been out of the previous Mankato game because of an injury, played a good game, punting well and doing effective passing.

It was the last game for Bill Gebhard, Francis O'Neil, Harold Rogge, Vince Viezbicke, Joe Germ, Johnny Kozlowski and Ernie Winters.

At the time this paper was going to press the freshman girls had challenged the sophomore girls to a game of soccer. The three freshmen sections in physical education have elected the following to their squad: Lorraine Anderson, Jeanette Barrett, Elizabeth Burke, Sophyne Ellingson, Gwendolyn Engirth, Alyce Hill, Elizabeth Jones, Maxine Kanthack, Ruth Lyons, Dorothy Mallory, Margie Nupen, Marion Omodt, Evelyn Ogrosky, Virginia Robb, and Vivian Yates. Coach Galligan Arranges Basketball Schedule For Cagers

With his football season successfully completed Coach Glen Galligan, aided by Captain Verne Herman, will devote his time building up a smooth working basketball five for the coming 1933-1934 season.

Galligan has arranged a very attractive schedule with Bemidji, St. Cloud, and Mankato Teachers Colleges playing two games apiece with the Purple.

Duluth T. C. and Moorhead T. C. each have scheduled one game with Winona, while Rochester J. C. will play the Purple in their opener.

This gives Winona eight conference games and one non-conference game. Arrangements with Eau Claire have not yet been made, but Winona has played them in past years and it is expected they will appear on the complete schedule this season.

As to prospects for candidates on the first squad, Coach Glen Galligan, it is expected, will have the veterans Captain Verne Herman, Ernie Winter, Alvin Berg, and Vince Viezbicke.

Other last year players who should make a strong bid for the first team are Luther McCown, James O'Gara, Bert Laugen, Louis Hoover, Kermit MacPherson, and Ted Rothwell.

Joe Germ, who played guard last year, is in school but will be ineligible for the coming season because of previously attending Virginia Junior College where he played basketball for two years.

challenge game: Amelia Anderson, Ruth Boyd, Christine Breyer, Laura Bunge, Mary Jilk, Evelyn Johnson, Virginia Johnson, Virgil Mourning, Marjorie Moyer, Ruth McDonald, Millicent Polley, Helen Rogers, Virginia Stoppel, Inez Uglum, and Norma Westman.

The second regular meeting of the Women's Physical Education Club was held Monday evening, November 6. Following the brief business meeting the girls occupied the college gymnasium for an hour. After dividing into two teams they played volleyball. This was the first play meeting of the year; we are looking forward to more of them.

With the close of the fall quarter, fall sports must also come to an end. Announcements for the "last round-up" will be posted on the bulletin board by Ruth McDonald. The W.A.A. is planning a "get-together" for the purpose of introducing and selecting the winter sports. "Get along, get along" to this meeting, girls.

A feature of the W.A.A. organization was a Hallowe'en party given October 30 in the corrective gymnasium. Fifteen girls gave evidence of their Hallowe'en spirit. Games and stunts were carried out in harmony with the witches and ghosts. The refreshments consisted of apple cider, doughnuts, and marshmallows.

Finis to Football

The final game with Rochester J. C. ended with a 6 to 0 victory for the Purple, but not 12 to 6 as forecast. My one consolation can be taken from the Jaysee Echo written by an old acquaintance, Julie Hargesheimer.

He writes: "This Saturday as we all know is Yellow Jacket Day. The Yellow Jackets will play the big Winona T. C. team Saturday afternoon. The Gate City team will send an experienced team which will outweigh the Yellow Jackets by at least 10 lbs. to a man; although the Clarkmen will be in there fighting, pre-game dope is that it is anybody's game. This writer believes that with an undefeated record to uphold coupled with the fact that the Clarkmen are playing on their own field, gives the Clarkmen a slight edge over the River City outfit; consequently, we'll surmise a 13 to 7 victory for the Yellow Jackets."

Looking back at the football season one can say that the Purple were very successful. Winona won five games and lost three and finished second in the Northern Conference. Of these games the Purple scored a total of 69 points to 75 points for their opponents.

The Winona Teachers downed Moorhead, a team that defeated Concordia. St. Cloud was victorious over the Purple but they also beat the powerful St. Johns team. These two teams, St. John's and Concordia, are on par with St. Mary's and it looks as if the proposed game between St. Mary's and Winona T. C. in 1935 would prove to be an interesting one. Five years ago a game of this sort would never have been thought of because the Redman were putting forth some powerful teams.

A great many fans at the Mankato game were of the opinion that the Purple trickery in their Homecoming Game was uncalled for and showed poor sportsmanship.

At the time everyone was so overjoyed at the winning of this game that it never occurred to them to be unsportsmanlike. Now as one looks back and stops to think about it, the trick might have been carried to the extreme. On the other hand that's what makes football. Using your head is part of the game.

Your opinion on this matter may be expressed in the Open Forum.

To youse guys; Ernie Winter, Verne Herman, Johnny Kozlowski, Vince Viezbicke, Joe Germ, Harold Rogge and Bill Gebhard, who are handing in your suits for the last time, a great deal of credit should be given for your accomplishments this season. You were in there fighting every game. You won games and lost games and still kept the same aggressive attitude. We're sorry to lose you but since you have to go, we'll say goodbye regretfully.

Winona Wins Easy Game

Morse Takes Advantage of Eau Claire's Fumble To Score

In a game marred by numerous fumbles the Purple and White eleven handed Eau Claire Teachers a 25 to 0 defeat at college field Friday, October 27. Two long runs by Ernie Winters furnished the only thrills of the game.

After a scoreless first quarter, Winona managed to get the ball in Eau Claire territory. Barnes, Eau Claire fullback, then fumbled on his own 13 yard line. The pigskin rolled over the goal line where Bill Morse, after a wild scramble, fell on the ball for the first touchdown.

Winters attempted line plunge for the extra point was stopped short and Winona led at half time 6 to 0.

On the kickoff at the start of the second half, Winter took the ball from Verne Herman on a criss cross and dashed 80 yards down the east sidelines to score. The try for the extra point was good on a pass, Johnson to Winters, from a fake kick formation.

Midway in the third period, Myles Peterson kicked out of bounds on the Eau Claire one-yard line. The return kick was carried to the Wisconsin Peds 22 yard line. On the next play Winters circled left end for a touchdown. Peterson's place kick for the extra point was wide.

Winona completed its scoring late in the third period when Peterson intercepted an Eau Claire pass and raced 37 yards for a goal. Again his place-kick went wide.

In the final period Coach Glen Galligan made many substitutions, this being the reason why the Purple did not score in this period.

Winona held the upper hand throughout the game, holding the Wisconsin Peds to four first downs, while they made 11 first downs. The fine kicking of Myles Peterson and the long gains by Ernie Winters were features of the game.

The new men of the college are getting started with Intramural basketball in a big way. Last Tuesday after classes were closed they chose sides and had a brief scrimmage. This was mainly to get them acquainted with the men's sports carried on in school.

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR GIRLS WHO WANT TO BE POPULAR

1. Brag about your affairs with other boys.
2. Talk much. Don't let the boy-friends do any of it.
3. Be forever asking him to buy you something.
4. If he takes you out to lunch, order as if you hadn't eaten for a week.
5. Always tell him how weak and homely he is.
6. If he notices that nice dress you have on, say, "Oh! It's just an old one." Don't give him credit for a little sense. Try to put on the dog. Just act mean and unladylike and watch him eat it up.
7. Keep feeding him the same old line, or keep saying, "Oh yeah?" or some equally sensible exclamation.
8. Never tell him how clever he is. No matter what kind of a position he holds, tell him it either takes a dumb man or an inferior one to hold it.
9. Try to be bossy or rule over him. There won't be time enough for that when you've caught your man.
10. Always gossip and slander. If you can't say a bad thing about a person, don't say anything. Argue and criticize. Ignore the pleasant, and don't learn how to keep secrets.

"John, what is an egotist?"

"An egotist, my boy, is a woman who can tell you things about herself which you intended to tell her about yourself."

"I'm sorry you think I'm conceited."

"Well, no, Lauren, I wouldn't say that; but I think you suffer a little from 'I' strain."

The professor was asked to give his definition of woman.

After clearing his throat he began in his leisurely way: "Woman is, generally speaking —"

"Stop right there, professor," interrupted a masculine listener. "If you talked a thousand years you'd never get any nearer to it than that."

QUESTIONNAIRE

- Q. What will the girl of eighteen be in ten year's time?
A. Twenty-one.
- Q. What is a hypocrite?
A. A student coming to school with a smile on his face.
- Q. I don't see how football players ever get clean.
A. Silly, what do you suppose the scrub teams are for.
- Q. What is a bachelor?
A. A man who has cheated some woman out of a divorce.
- Q. What is a monolog?
A. It is a conversation being carried on by a young man and his T. C. girl friend.
- Q. What type of water power is known to every man?
A. Women's tears, sir, women's tears.
- Q. What is the pale of civilization?
A. Oh, some new brand of face powder, I suppose.

'JA B' LIEVE IT?

"Do you believe there are microbes in kisses?"

"Yes. That's what the scientists say."

"What disease do they cause?"

"Palpitation of the heart, I presume."

"Hilda alludes to her ex-boy friends as the four P's. What does she mean?"

"She says the first one was a Paradox, awfully hard to understand; the second was a Parasite; the third was a perfect Paragon, really too good for her; and the fourth a Parachute, he let her down."

"And Chuck, the darling, told me I was the only girl he ever loved."

"Yes, and doesn't he say it beautifully?"

HEARD AT WEST LODGE

"Why are you taking so much time over that letter to your folks? You've been at it for two hours. Are you asking for money?"

"No, I'm trying to write without asking for money."

This writer in Judge must have attended a W.S.T.C. physics class: "Darling, when I look into your eyes I feel like a million watts. You're the coil of my dreams and I just can't get along without you. Sweetheart, you've got IT — you've got British Thermal Units, and what's more you've got good horsepower."

"My love for you is direct and will never be alternating. Dearest, wire you so aloof? Say you'll be mine — I erg you. Every week I'll take you out to dyne and see a show. What if we do have to sit in the calorie. Think how happy we'll be in our little cottage singing "Ohm Sweet Ohm" together."

"Have you heard the story that's going around Morey Hall?"

"Heard it? Why, dearie, I started it."

THE TOREADOR'S PRONGS

opening of the institution. Two outstanding M.E.A. reunions were those in honor of two members of the society, Miss Theda Gilde-meister in 1921 and James P. Vaughan, '02, in 1924, each being president of the M.E.A. for the year named. Two other M.E.A. reunions stand out, that of 1923, when the memorial organ plan was adopted, resulting in a $30,000 instrument, and that of 1928, when the Seventieth Anniversary Fund enterprise was agreed upon.

The society was incorporated under the state law in June 1930 with the name, "The Alumni Society of Winona State Teachers College."

The dues are one dollar for one year, and five dollars for a life membership. Meetings are held once a year.

It has been suggested that the society start preparations for the Seventy-fifth Anniversary of the college which will be in 1935.

The present officers are: R. B. LeMay, president; Mrs. L. J. Luhman, vice-president; Miss Mable Marvin, secretary; and directors: Mrs. Roy Tolleson, Mrs. Clarence O'Brien, Miss Grace Muir, Miss Flora Trites, Miss Sara Sill (maiden name), and C. L. Simmers.

EXCHANGE

Have students a right to think? Undoubtedly this is a question which many a college student has asked himself, either directly or indirectly, without receiving a satisfactory reply, so take heed.

"Students, as well as professors, should think seriously about the educational system, setting up what seems to them the ideal system and thinking in terms of approaching that ideal as closely as is practical. If the present system, with its grades, its degrees, its inadequate advisory system, its compulsory class attendance, can be justified, its defendants need fear nothing from the advocates of progressive education. If it cannot be defended against recommended changes, then there is no reason for its continuance."

Men's Annual Dinner To Be Held at Morey

On Saturday, November 18, the men of the college are planning to have their annual banquet at Morey Hall. More than seventy-five men are expected to attend.

Mr. Jederman is to be toastmaster so, of course, there will be plenty of wise-cracks and abundant good humor.

Several short speeches are planned for during the evening and Dr. Minne has been asked to talk to the group.

mittee to proceed in carrying out this idea, under the leadership of Dean Johnston. Three topics were considered.

Should there be a larger participation on the part of all colleges, including the junior colleges, in the high school testing program carried on in Minnesota under the direction of Dean Johnston? This is the testing program, involving high school seniors to determine their fitness for college work. The results of this test would be sent back to the high schools and would help avoid having students coming to college and not being able to carry their work successfully.

Ought colleges to cooperate in a testing program in the high school beginning with the tenth grade and aiming at better vocational guidance?

Ought more significant and complete records be made in high school, preferably on some uniform card, so that valuable information might accompany the student to college or indicate his most promising lines of work in high school?

Saetveit Leads Choir In First Appearance

The A Cappella choir is working on two very difficult numbers to be sung at chapel on Friday, November 17, at which time the organization, led by Mr. Saetveit, will make its first appearance before the student body.

The first number is an eight part arrangement of an old German choral, "Praise to the Lord" by F. Melius Christianson, director of the St. Olaf Choir.

A Russian song, "The Cherubim Song" by Bortnianski, written in four parts is the second number being prepared.

College Observes Education Week

In observance of Education Week, November 6-12, sponsored by the National Education Association and the American Legion, appropriate assembly exercises were held throughout the week.

Lauren Amdahl presented "The Present Emergency in Education," on Monday, November 6. He said, "Further retrenchment to keep pace with business enterprise is impractical; while the demand for the products of business and industry generally have been greatly reduced, the demands made upon the schools have increased by leaps and bounds."

On Wednesday, November 8, Ruth Beseler presented "How We May Effectively Meet the Present Problems in Education." She explained, "We must not squeeze education. In so doing we are destroying the cornerstone — the foundation of our national life which stands between us and chaos."

The program on Friday morning consisted of a reading from Tennyson's "Locksley Hall" by Darwin Stephan; "He Maketh Wars to Cease" sung by the College Chorus with solo arrangement by Miss Rohweder; and "The Psychology of War" by Rev. W. H. Wolf. He was sent as a representative of the American Legion. He said, "Peace does not mean merely to refrain from slaughtering, rather it is a means of positive creation. It may be won and preserved if the leaders of peace abiding people cooperate in holding down the war makers."

A collection of 36 stones and other minerals mentioned in the Bible, and of the varieties used by the ancient Hebrews to adorn liturgical vestments has been added to the geological exhibit at Hunter College, New York.

A visual education course is being offered by Boston University, School of Education. A series of films, each one a talkie featuring some leader in the field of education, will form the basis of the lecture.
